

THE STORY

Five chickens named Scramuel, Shelly, Henry, Eggbert and Kaypon were the only chickens in Farmer Brown's flock. They all came to live with Farmer Brown at different times. One came first, one came second, one came third and so on. Each of the chickens came from a fine old family and their last names were Cooper, Fryer, Stewart, Fowler and Winger. Aside from chicken feed, they each had a different favorite food they found in the barnyard, which was worms, grubs, ants, beetles and spiders. The chickens all suffered from nightmares, but they all dreamed about something different. They dreamt about foxes, hawks, axes, grills and soup. Based on the clues, match the chickens with their order of arrival, their last names, their favorite foods and their worst nightmares.
