

THE STORY

Five English trolls named Nigel, Neil, Nellie, Nathan, and Nancy lived under five different bridges. The bridges were painted five different colors; they were blue, green, red, purple and orange. The trolls were very brave except each was afraid of a different animal. They were afraid of goats, horses, cows, sheep and pigs. Whenever these animals crossed over a bridge that had a troll who was afraid of them living under it, the trolls would run out and shout something to try to get them to hurry on. The trolls would shout "go away," "leave," "shoo," "away with you" and "move along." Based on the clues, match the trolls with their bridge colors, the animals they feared and what they shouted.

THE CLUES

1. Nigel, Neil and Nellie were not afraid of goats or horses, and Nathan was not afraid of goats either.
2. The cow-fearing troll lived under the orange bridge, and the sheep-fearing troll lived under the purple bridge.
3. Neither Nathan nor Nancy lived under the blue bridge, and neither shouted "move along."
4. When cows walked across the bridge the troll shouted "go away," when sheep walked across the bridge the troll shouted "leave," and when goats walked across the bridge the troll shouted "shoo."
5. Neil's bridge was not blue or orange, Nigel's bridge was not blue, and Nancy's bridge was not green.

THE STORY

Five one-humped camels named Chad, Charles, Charo, Carl and Cathy were different ages but all shared a love for their camel soccer team named the Dunes. They were 5 years old, 10 years old, 15 years old, 20 years old and 21 years old. For one game, they decided to paint the letters D, U, N, E and S on their humps in five different colors. The colors were white, red, pink, yellow and green. Whenever the team scored, they would stand sideways spelling out their team name and sing their team song. Based on the clues, match the camels with their ages, the letters painted on their humps and their letter colors.

THE CLUES

1. Charles was exactly twice as old as Carl but Chad was older, and Carl was twice as old as Charo.
2. When standing in line to spell "Dunes," Charo had to stand at one end and Cathy had to stand at the other end.
3. To spell "Dunes" correctly, Charles always had to stand in the middle of the line.
4. The oldest camel had a pink "E" on his hump, and the youngest had a white "S" on her hump.
5. Carl's letter was not red or green, and Cathy's letter was not red.
